

The municipal pact for intercultural living together

Your municipality has signed the Gemengepakt (municipal pact for intercultural living together) and is thus committed to a participatory process that emphasises access to information, the participation of all people living or working in the municipality and the fight against racism and all forms of discrimination. Whether you have recently moved to the area, or have lived or worked there for a long time, in the context of the Gemengepakt, you can:

- Give your opinion and make constructive suggestions on subjects that concern everybody
- Participate in citizen workshops and contribute to the development of concrete projects
- Actively promote living together and dialogue in your municipality

Living together, working together, growing together – Intercultural cohesion is a shared responsibility and you too can participate!
